Frostburg to Woodcock Hollow

by Paul Wiegman

It was a splendid day for a bike ride. There was a bright sun, a bit of a breeze, and a new, untraveled trail to ride — what more could we ask for?

That was the scene on August 24th when the newest segment of the Great Allegheny Passage was dedicated. A crowd of several hundred gathered at the trail access in Frostburg, MD to celebrate and ride the new six-mile section from there to Woodcock Hollow.

A gaggle of bikers from Maryland, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia were on hand to listen intently to the comments of local, regional, and state dignitaries. The crowd was most attentive to Maryland Governor Robert L. Ehrlich, Jr., who pleased trail supporters with a pledge of continued financial support for trails in western Maryland, including the promise to fund the last link of the Great Allegheny Passage from Woodcock Hollow into Cumberland, MD and the C&O Canal Trail. The response was rousing applause.

Cumberland, Here We Come!

Acquisition Opens Maryland Corridor

Kudos to Maryland Secretary of Transportation Robert L. Flanagan, his staff at the Department of Transportation, and the Maryland Department of Planning for securing the final tract of land from CSX to complete construction of the Maryland section of the Great Allegheny Passage.

This acquisition makes it possible for the trail to continue into Cumberland and join the C & O Canal Towpath at Canal Place. The process was lengthy, and many thanks to the Secretary and all who have worked on this for a very long time.

Allegheny County, MD

The six-mile section from the Frostburg Trailhead to the Woodcock Hollow Trailhead was opened in August. Now the Allegheny Highlands Trail of Maryland is finished from the Mason-Dixon Line to Woodcock Hollow, which is approximately halfway to Cumberland. AHTM hopes to go to bid on their final section of trail from Woodcock Hollow to Cumberland soon.

Somerset County, PA

Just south of Meyersdale at Scratch Hill, a bridge is missing. You can take the road detour from the Meyersdale Station to Miller Run Road (Sand Patch). That detour will be marked as soon as the Somerset section is opened. Check www.atatrail.org.

Big Savage Tunnel (near the Mason-Dixon Line) will close November 21 and will reopen April 2006. Closing the doors will protect the tunnel from winter damage and is critical to maintaining the tunnel. If you are planning a through trip while the tunnel is closed, consider shuttling around that section.

Several trail representatives manned the ATA booth at the Healthy 4 Life Expo in August and heard interesting comments and fielded a wide range of questions. Thanks Rob Boulware, Paul McKeown, Hank and Linda Parke, Ed and Sue DiFrancesco and Sandra Finley. Special thanks go to Dennis Pfeiffer for setting up the display at the Expo. A friendly couple from Aspinwall, Ingeborg and Imre Kerenyi, related that their favorite section is Connellsville to Ohiopyle and they ride it weekly during trail season and celebrated their 42nd Wedding Anniversary on the trail.  Thanks to volunteers John and Dorothea Motto for representing ATA at the senior fair sponsored by Representative Tom Tangretti at the Kirk S. Nevin Recreation Center in July.

Congratulations to Metal Bridge project coordinator Melissa Bilec and her husband, Doug, on the birth of their daughter, Isabella Rose.  The Maryland opening in August brought out folks from far and near including Martha Raak in her official Tour de France jersey. Bill Atkinson, Dave Cotton, and Vicki Day did a great job planning and carrying out the event. The Hites provided excellent food. We were sad to hear that the Hites Bike Shops are closing. ATA appreciates their support and wishes them well.

Rockwood Rivers & Rails Festival Committee working with ATA has installed an interpretive wayside exhibit at the Rockwood Trailhead. Thanks to the Committee and especially to Jean Aitchson and Betty Arnold for all their work on the project.  Emails and phone calls to the ATA indicate that the new Great Allegheny Passage mile posts are much appreciated. Thanks to Ned Williams for his leadership. Our post pacer, Ed Talone of the American Hiking Society, fractured his ankle on a recent hike on the Ice Age Trail. He reports daily that he's doing well.

Leaving the ATA board are Chris Davis, from Friends of the Riverfront, and Ed Deaton, from the Youghiogheny River Trail South. Ed, an early, passionate trail proponent, retired from the Pennsylvania Department of Conservation and Natural Resources this summer. Thanks to both.

Welcome to Jeff Johns, representing Youghiogheny River Trail South, and Bob Gangewere, representing Friends of the Riverfront.

ATA President Honored as PA Distinguished Daughter
Governor Edward G. Rendell and Judge Marjorie O. Rendell hosted the Distinguished Daughters of Pennsylvania's 58th Annual Presentation at the Governor's Residence on October 18th which honored this year's 10 inductees, including ATA board president Linda McKenna Boxx. The press release from the event notes: “Through her leadership and example, she works to conserve resources, protect the state's natural landscapes, and sustain environmental quality. As a founder of the Allegheny Trail Alliance she has... worked to develop) the Great Allegheny Passage.” Congratulations, Linda.

final engineering for the conversion of the Hot Metal Bridge for pedestrian/bike use. URA anticipates starting construction this fall pending final approval from PennDOT.

South Side 10-1 trail segment of the Three Rivers Heritage Trail is now complete. Trail users are finally able to travel from the Baldwin Borough Trail through the South Side and to Station Square, downtown Pittsburgh and beyond.

Work continues on the acquisition of trail corridor on the Steel Valley Trail Section.

Montour Trail
All sections that were closed due to flood damage from Hurricane Ivan in 2004 are now open. There is a water line project taking place between mile post zero and approximately mile post three, but the trail will remain open. Temporary trail bypasses will be constructed as needed by the contractor.

The Muse-Bishop Bridge is finished and the Montour-Panhandle Connector (mile 17.1) is graded and easily passable. Approximately 5/8 mile more trail will be at least graded and easily passable between Peters Township and the Library Trestle (Route 88).

Youghiogheny River Trail South
The Ohiopyle High Bridge will be under construction this winter. When we know the start date, detours, and more information, it will be posted at www.atattrail.org, and on the Ohiopyle State Park website www.dcnr.state.pa.us/stateparks/parks/ohiopyle.aspx.
Trail Group Members Build and Maintain The Passage

When you join a trail group, you are making an investment in the future. If you are already a member of a trail group, give yourself a pat on the back; you’re part of the team driving one of the best recreational resources in the country. Members were the engine in the completing 100 miles of the Great Allegheny Passage.

“These folks came to meetings and said we want this trail and we will do whatever we can to make it happen,” said Malcolm Sias of Westmoreland County Parks, remembering the early years of the Regional Trail Corporation.

“And they delivered. They formed trail support organizations and gave money, and those who could, worked. Yes, the trail has had major funding support from government sources and foundations. It happened because trail group members made the case for the trail. They showed how much it meant by contributing funds and putting in thousands of hours of hard work.”

What is a Trail Group?
The Great Allegheny Passage and Montour Trail are supported by the members of trail organizations connected to specific geographic regions of the trail system. Trail group members help build and maintain the trail, hold events, raise funds, are ambassadors for the trail, and perform a host of other activities.

What Does My Membership Do?
Trail groups need your membership and, if possible, your involvement. Your membership provides funding and, at the same time, it indicates grassroots support for the trail system. We can show elected officials and other funding sources that this system is a priority for the region when we can show them thousands of memberships.

If you can also volunteer in some capacity, that’s a great help, too. And chances are you’ll find it fulfilling and fun. Volunteers are needed in many capacities.

Help Build and Maintain
Saturday in trail season means coffee and donuts at Charlie Smith’s shop in Greenock. The Mon Yough Trail Council crew clear brush, cut grass, maybe put in a bench or two. And that’s happening all up and down the Great Allegheny Passage. If you enjoy being outdoors and working, chances are you’ll enjoy trail work crews.

Organizing Rides
Volunteers organize rides that introduce more people to the trails and raise funds for the trail groups. In addition, most of the trail groups organize rides for their membership.

“We work together and ride together,” said volunteer Judy Marshall. “We’re family.”

Monitoring the Trail
Trail ambassadors incorporate their rides with monitoring—check-

Biker/Boater Campground Developed in Cedar Creek Park

Another Place to Pitch Your Tent

The Blazing New Trails program in cooperation with the Regional Trail Corporation and Westmoreland County Parks has developed a biker/boater campground in Cedar Creek Park. It is located at the southernmost end of Cedar Creek Park along the trail (Milepost 110).

Last year Belle Vernon students built the picnic tables with shingled roofs. This year Yough students continued at the site, building fire rings, tent pads, restroom, and are currently working on the shelter. Thanks to the young people and the program that made it possible. Also at the site campers will find a water pump and a Sweet Smelling Toilet (SST).

Camping is free, but groups must make reservations. Contact: Westmoreland County Parks R.D. 12, Box 203 Greensburg, PA 15601. Phone (724) 838-3968.

Water Added to Roundbottom
The Regional Trail Corporation recently added a water pump to the Roundbottom primitive campground near Layton (Milepost 102). Roundbottom is adjacent to the trail and fronts the Youghiogheny River, making this location accessible for both trail and river users. A Sweet Smelling Toilet is slated for installation there in the spring. No fee, but groups of 10 or more must make reservations. Contact: Regional Trail Corporation, P.O. Box 95, West Newton, PA 15089 Phone (724) 872-5586.

SST placed by crane in Cedar Creek Park.

Students help build tent pads at Cedar Creek Park.

LETTER FROM THE PREZ

Imagine the day when USA Today carries a feature on the Great Allegheny Passage. It describes the fabulous scenery, the well-maintained trail, and the generous hospitality found in the towns along the trail.

These towns have charming places to stay and restaurants that range from local diners to high-end cuisine. The towns know how to accommodate these tourists who come by bike or foot. Bike racks are conveniently located, and the sidewalks are wide and clean. Banners, decorative lights, and hanging flower baskets make the streets warm and welcoming. The article praises the trail towns as much as it does the wonderful recreational experience.

To help make this vision a reality, the Department of Conservation and Natural Resources awarded us a planning grant to develop a “Trail Town Community Development” model. The end result will be a how-to manual to assist communities to take advantage of the tourism generated by the trail. This model is an adaptation of the National Main Street program and uses the same logic, structure and vocabulary. Existing Main Street communities will feel right at home with Trail Towns, but information is added specifically related to trail users and their needs.

USA Today aside, positive word-of-mouth referrals are the best means of marketing. If visitors have a satisfying experience – on the trail and in the towns – they will want to come back with family and friends.

We hope to have the manual completed by the end of the year and get it to our communities so they can take advantage of the tourism potential that the trail creates. We are working with a variety of public and private groups to make technical assistance available to our trail towns.

Working together, we can create an exceptional tourism experience that will return economic value back to the region and benefit everyone.

rather than a rail to trail. Over the past several years there has been an ongoing discussion about how the Great Allegheny Passage would be developed along the right-of-way where the Western Maryland Scenic Railway operates, taking passengers on a reminiscent train ride from Cumberland to Frostburg.

More recently, supporters of bikes and trains got together with the help of the Maryland Department of Planning. The two groups found creative ways to overcome old obstacles, and closing the gap between Frostburg and Cumberland began to become a reality.

The cooperative attitude of the two groups was echoed at the moment the ribbon was cut when the old steam engine of the WMSRR, sitting at the station just up the hill from the celebration, whistled in support of its new traveling partners, the bicyclists.
Once the pieces of ribbon hit the rolled limestone surface, bikers mounted their wheels and headed for Woodcock Hollow. Some bikers rode the train to the trail end, and biked back to Frostburg.

The remainder of the Great Allegheny Passage that will be completed (from Woodcock Hollow to Cumberland and the C&O Canal Towpath) will also parallel the Scenic Railway. By then the unfinished portions of trail in Somerset County, PA, from Meyersdale to the State Line, will be finished, and the long-awaited continuous trail from Pittsburgh to Washington, D.C. will be close to a reality.

We can’t wait.
